Follies Goes "Cabaret" in a Big Way

The "Cabaret" went out and took the audiences in a big way.

Through the efforts of the cast director, Mr. Bauserman, the cast, and the behind-the-stage crew; the Follies overwhelmed the audience with their talent.

The show became such a success that the crew gave a performance to the student body with the admission of canned goods for the Christmas Bureau.

In upper left hand corner, Mary Greig rounds-up the Charger talent by posting when the try-outs will be held.

Doug Hamilton, Mary Greig, and Juanita Hayes (lower left) have problems doing a coffee commercial directed by Doug. "Are all women that catty?"

Laurie Miller sings "I Don't Know How to Love Him" from the play Jesus Christ Superstar. (upper right)

Tim McEntee (lower left) plays a solo comedy on the piano. "Peposident really does have sex appeal!"

Bob Barrett, (lower right) plays a solo on his guitar. While playing for the student body, Bob dedicated a segment of the Stroh's theme to the Seniors.

Student Council Innovates Parent-Student Exchange Day

This year, after meeting with Principal Cox, PTO President Mrs. Shambaugh, and the Northwest Allen County School Board, the Student Council replaced the usual Open House with a Parent-Student Exchange Day. Many parents came to school while the students stayed at home.

Ordinary classtime was cut in order for parents to experience an activity period and a pep session. During classes they were able to buy and sell stocks, perform Chemistry experiments, and write compositions.

Many parents commented that the first "Parent-Student Swap" was enjoyable and fulfilling, and they hoped to see more in the future.

On opposite page, Student Council members Eileen Cravens, Jani Bosserman, Debby Heck, and Katie Meehan register confused parents as Mrs. Meehan heads for her first class.

CHS Wrestlers Take ACAC Tourney And Conference

CHS Basketball Wins ACAC Conference

Winter season showed the strength of the basketball and wrestling teams. Mr. Moyer's basketball squad took ACAC Conference with an undefeated record. The team took runner-up position in the sectionals to the Northrop Bruins who eventually won the State.

Mr. Fox's wrestling squad went on to win the Conference title. They also won the East Noble Invitational.

Mr. Cox (left) holds ACAC champion trophies for wrestling and basketball.

Mr. Moyer (below) gives encouraging words to Glenn Kite.

... A Winning "Series"

Spring training began a month prior to the first game of the season. The players put in many hard hours of workouts.

The season opened with triple headers on March 15, 16, & 17. While the band members warmed up in the bull pen, the back stage hands prepared the diamond. Spectators filled the stands to back another team consisting of able performers.

Coaches James Bauserman and Luke Matthew played a big part in inspiring the tremendous effort.

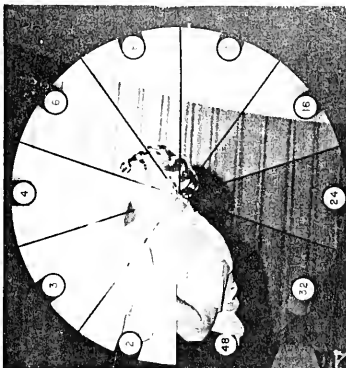

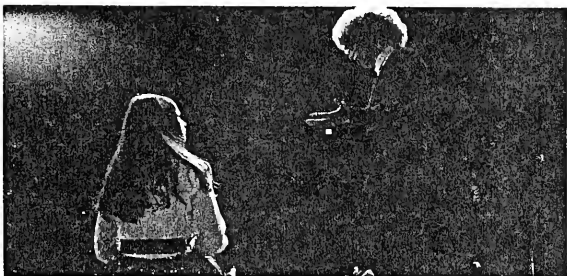

Excited fans witnessed double plays of applause, catchers of their eye, pitching out of enjoyment, and homeruns of laughter.

The season was completed with a three game sweep. Three days of hits, runs, and no errors.

Carroll Relays—1974

This year Carroll placed third at the 1974 Carroll Relays behind the victorious Columbia City Eagles and the Heritage Patriots. Other teams competing were Bishop Dwenger, Garrett, Homestead, Northfield, and Wabash.

Junior Jolene Schaefer reigned as Queen on the sunny but windy day. Her Court consisted of Eileen Cravens, Debbie Hall, and Barb Pusey.

Theme—"Moonlight and Roses" Prom 1974 What an Evening!

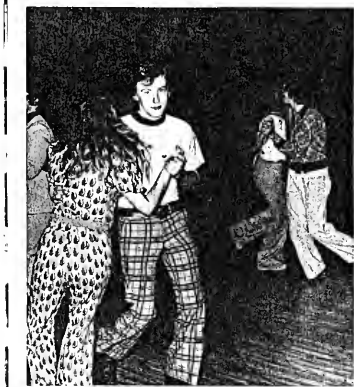

Extensive preparation by many hard working Juniors resulted in the 1974 Prom—"Moonlight and Roses." Couples talked, enjoyed refreshments and danced to the soft music of the "Melody Men."

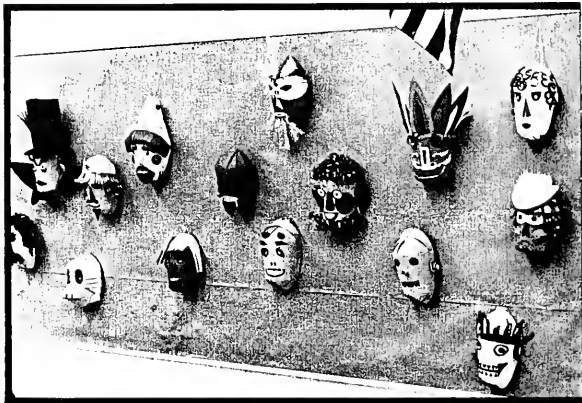

The Senior Class chose Rick Warner and Natalie Ellenwood as King and Queen with Terry Schlatter, Mark Wenzel, Gary Houser, Mary Meidinger, Jody Kimmel, and Mary Greig as their court.

The after-prom was held at the Shiloh. Both sides were used this year as both a rock band and square dance band provided continuous entertainment.

Senior Hall & Awards Day Climax Final Week

What had seemed to be a long four years was rapidly coming to an end. May 16, 1974 was the last full school day for Seniors. It was also the day for Senior Hall. All underclassmen were prohibited from entering. That night a few daring Seniors decorated the water tower on the Carroll Road with numerous "74's. 1974 had definitely been "four" year. The final day began with a 6:30 a.m. breakfast. The Awards ceremony followed. An abundance of awards were given to both Seniors and underclassmen. Then it was over and we would spend only a few more hours at Carroll High School.

Commencement—Memories... Pride... Accomplishment

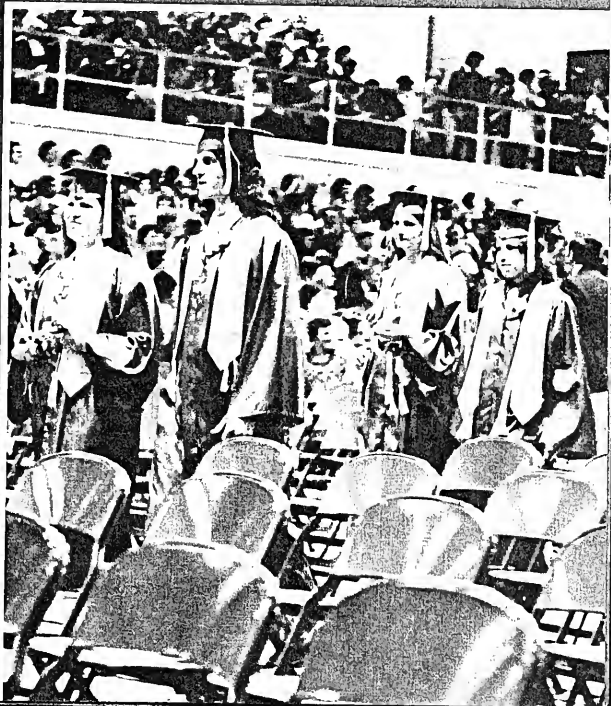

Preparation for Commencement began in January. Announcements were ordered and Seniors were measured for caps and gowns. The white robe was voted as the class flower and the motto chosen was, "We have made a world for all of us - but we need a place for each of us."

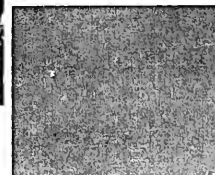

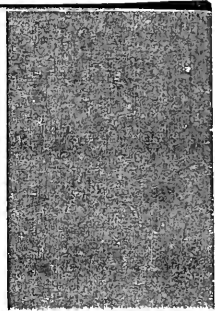

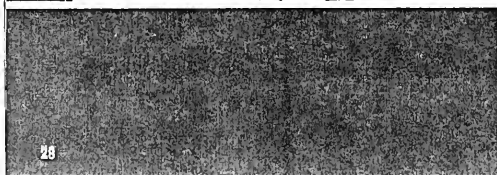

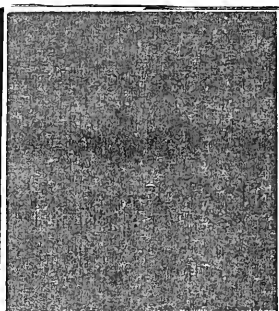

For the first time Baccalaureate and Commencement were held on the same day, Sunday May 19, 1974. Reverend Don Carpenter was the guest speaker at Baccalaureate.

In a ceremony that lasted only forty minutes, the Senior class gave Carroll High School a school flag. It also presented to the Junior Class The Lamp of Learning. The Lamp was given in memory of Joene Word who was a member of the Class of 1974. It represents a challenge for the next year's Seniors. To set a tradition, the Lamp will be bestowed to each Junior class at Commencement each year.

WE'VE COME A LONG WAY!!!

We've come a long way since the days of reading, writing, and arithmetic. Our journey began as unknowing Freshmen back in 1970 - to long ago. That year Carroll saw its first Homecoming and Relays and wrestling was established as a school sport. The dress code was altered, which enabled girls to wear skirts. In our Sophomore year, the code was eliminated completely. As Juniors we struggled through the PSAT and SAT tests. We created and organized the 1973 Prom - "An Evening in Paris." It was also the year that the English Department was completely revised. A variety of new courses were offered to the student body. Then it was August, 1973. At last we were Seniors! We saw a change in the Administration. Mr. Anderson, our principal of the last three years, left and was replaced by Mr. Lee Cox. Through Mr. Cox, the Student Council was able to initiate a number of new ideas.

During our four years we've seen the Carroll Chargers bring home ACAC championships in Cross Country, Golf, Baseball, Wrestling, Basketball, and Girls' Track. There were Sectional titles in Girls' Volleyball and Girls' Track plus Carroll's first Regional title, also in Girls' Track. The speech team that was actually in its infancy when we were Freshmen has grown stronger and better each year.

We've seen new teachers come and old teachers go. And now it's all over. Our high school days have concluded. We're graduates ready to face any new challenge that confronts us. And already some of us are looking forward to our first class reunion.

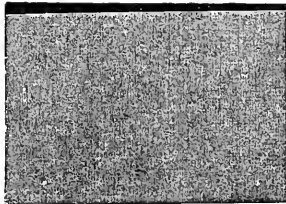

Yes, We've come a long way!

Industrial Arts Stress Practical Projects

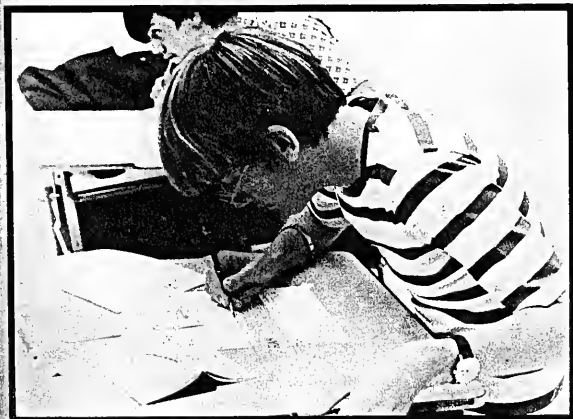

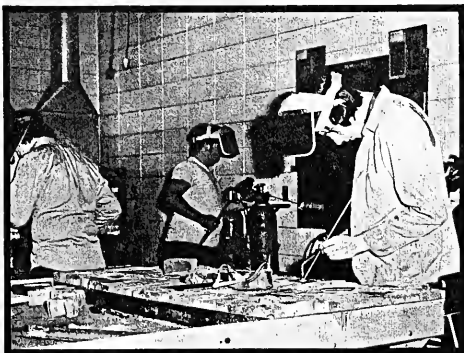

The Industrial Arts department involves many different areas of industry: Young men and women learn the skills used to make a living in today's fast paced world.

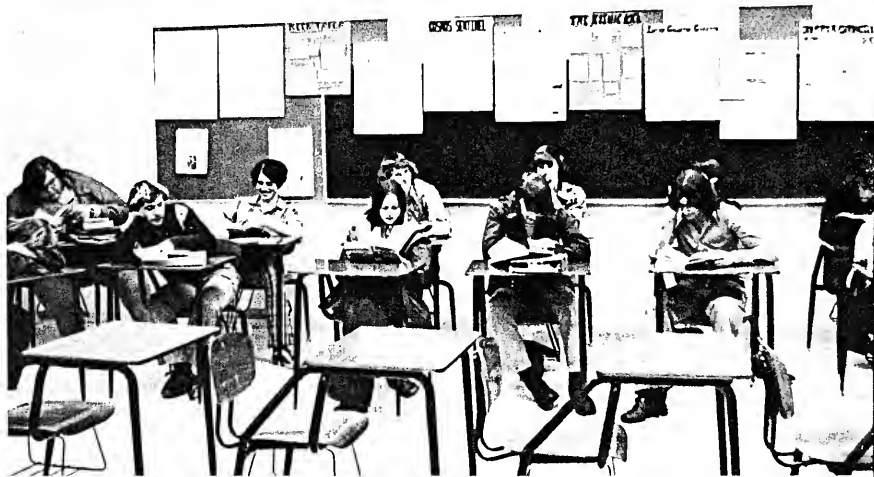

Drafting 1 through IV shows students the art of transmitting large objects into small scale drawings.

Woodworking and Power Mechanics are both necessary skills for future careers.

The 1973-74 school year at CHS proved to be an enjoyable one for the English Department. Phase Elective offered students a wide variety of courses from which to choose. Although this meant more work for the teachers, most of them felt it was worth it.

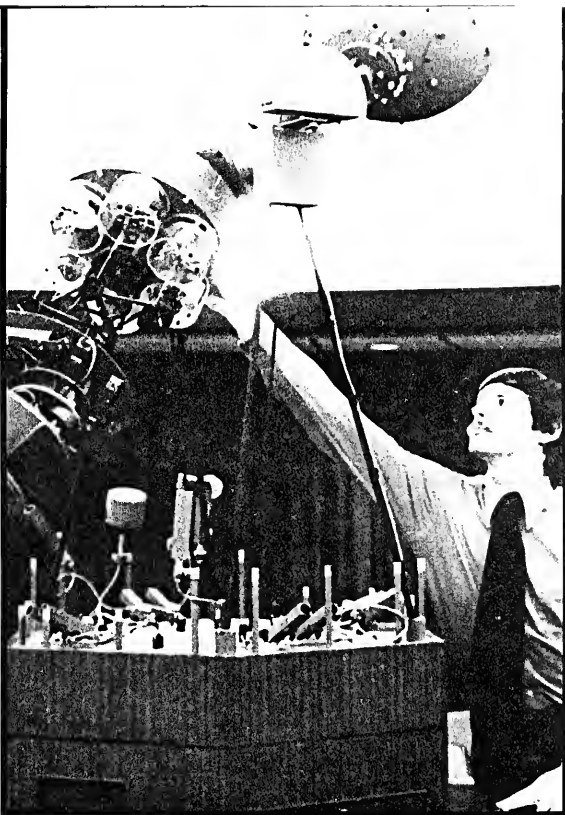

Through this new concept in English, students learned everything from Folklore to Business English. The enormous selection of subjects allowed students the opportunity to expand their knowledge of interests outside of the Basic English.

Field trips, experiments, and lectures give students a deeper knowledge of our natural sciences.

Earth Science class visited the May Stone and Sand Company where they collected fossils and crystals for study.

Advanced Biology students bettered their understanding of trees by spending a week exploring the woods.

Social Studies Gives Students an Awareness

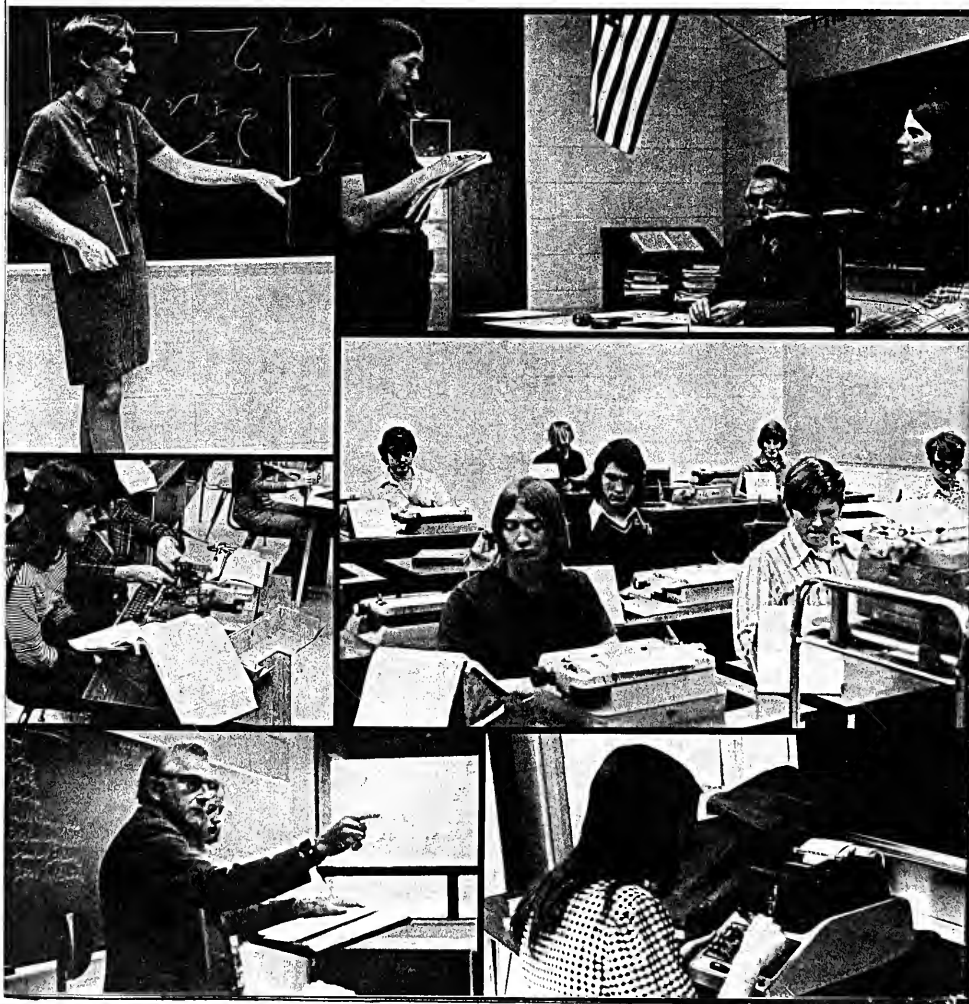

The Social Studies Department consists of Sociology, Economics, Government, World History, U.S. History, and Values and Issues. Social Studies is all about people and how they get along with each other in a group.

Due to the fuel shortage, classes were not taken on field trips this year, therefore, they did a great deal of research in different areas of our society. The students learned the make-up of our community and others outside the United States. Through their research, they began to realize that our world is made up of small groups of people working together to make this a better place to live.

Top Left: Katie Meehan takes attendance while Mr. Robinson prepares to "psych" the parents. Lower Left: Mr. McKinney uses the overhead to help students learn about stock markets. Middle: State Senator Walter Helmke seems to have caught the attention of the Senior Economics class. Lower Middle: Mr. Holderman wants to know where your pass is. Upper Right: Mr. Bordner helps a history student find the right answer. Lower Right: Students listen intently to Mr. Stahly's comments.

*Business Department Offers
A Wide Diversity Of Courses To Students
Entering This Profession*

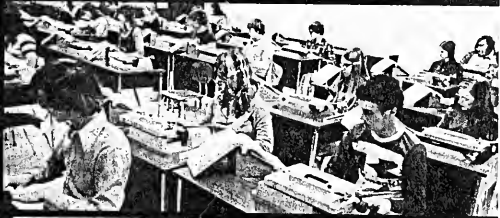

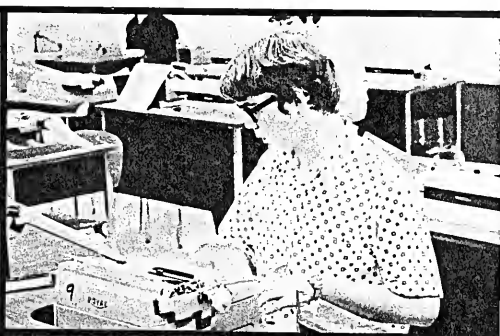

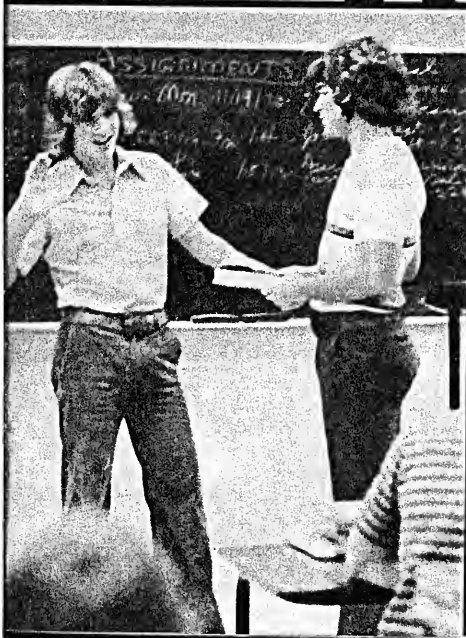

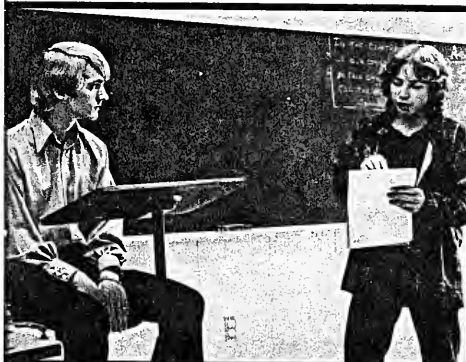

The business department offers many courses for students looking towards office work. Typewriting, shorthand, office procedures, bookkeeping, recordskeeping, business law, business math, and general business are subjects offered by this department.

Aspiring young businessmen and women enroll in this field of study.

Home Ec Students Learn Through Experience

Home Ec classes are not just learning how to sew and cook, but also learning consumer buying, interior decorating, family living, home management, and child care. Mrs. Luyben has the first year Home Ec class and Mrs. Reece has the rest of the classes.

Math students spent much time in study and confusion as they tried to decipher the theorems and proofs that faced them in their classes.

Horticulture Class Landscapes CHS Area Vo Ag Applies Learning To Practical Use Art Students Display Talents Throughout The Year

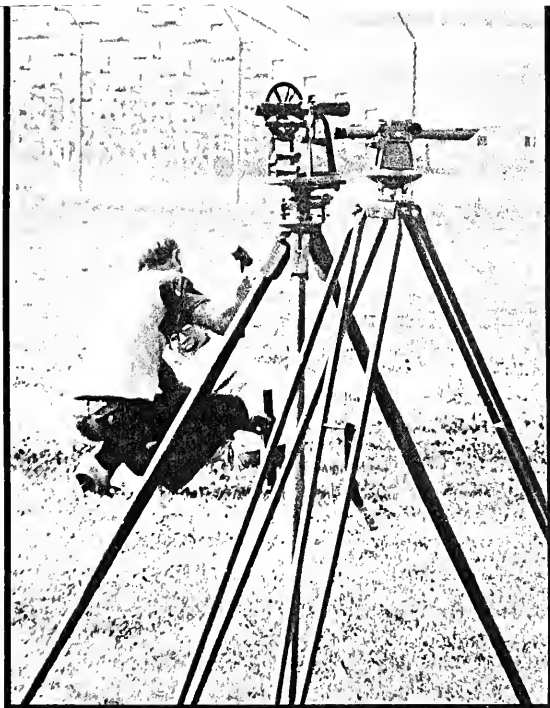

Farming and home improvement are fields open to students in Vocational Ag classes.

In Ag Mechanics, boys learn the skills of welding and carpentry. They will use their abilities in the business of farming.

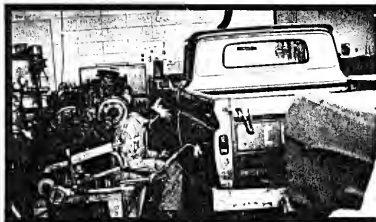

Horticulture class made many improvements on the greenhouse which they used for growing various plants. Planting and pruning trees were a few of the activities conducted by these students.

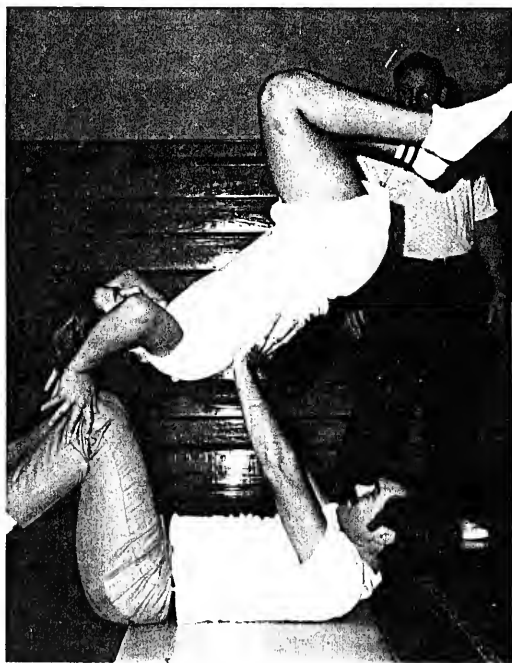

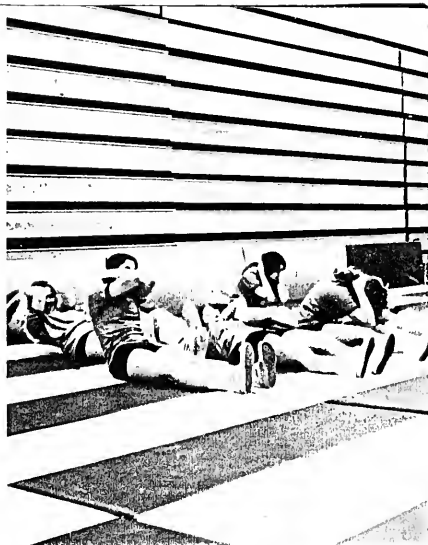

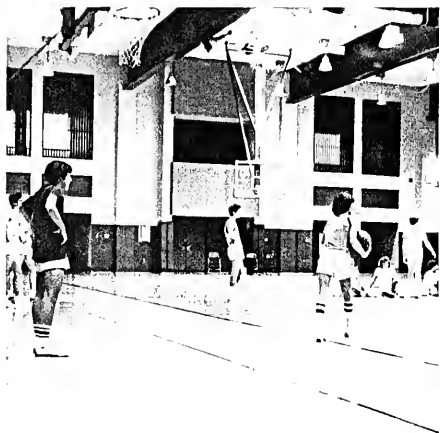

Students will always remember the displays set up by the Art classes supervised by Mrs. Walsh. An Evening of Fine Arts, in cooperation with the music department, was held in the spring where many art projects were observed and appreciated by the public.

P.E. Builds Character and Body

Physical Education is promoted to developing coordination and fitness in Carroll's young people. Through various games, gymnastics, and outdoor sports, Mrs. McAlexander and Mr. Moyer help these students to develop their physiques.

Language Students Delve into Foreign Customs

Foreign language students studied foreign customs this year. They became familiar with major cities and rivers, and different geographical regions of the countries.

Drama, lab sessions, and movies supplemented the language department's curriculum. Students presented plays, made up skits, and gave short reports, along with textbook work.

Mrs. Alter, German and Latin teacher, has announced that she will be retiring from teaching this year. We wish her the best of luck and will remember her always.

Pre-Vocational and Drivers Training

Classes Learn by Doing

During the early summer months, some Carroll students attend Drivers Training classes. They learn from films, textbooks, and actual driving experience, how to become safe and alert drivers.

Under the guidance of Mr. Etzler, Pre-Vocational classes develop skills necessary for future, practical use. Many receive "on-the-job" training. The students learn by doing, and are able to evaluate each others progress.

Administration Is Visible

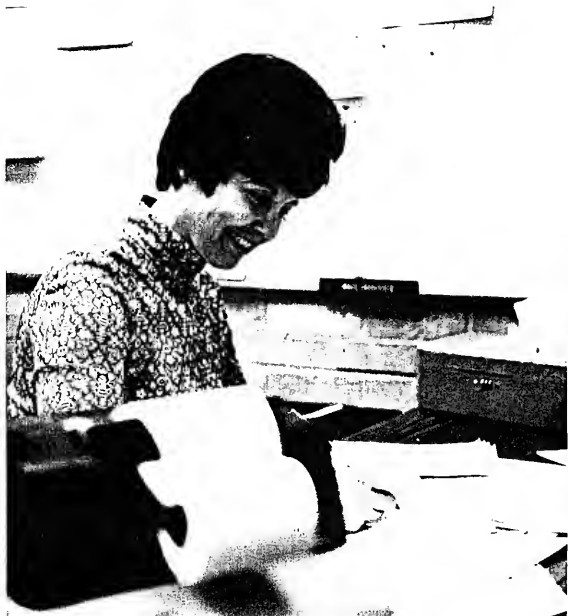

Throughout the 1973-74 school year, students noticed many unusual adult figures roaming their halls. As it turned out, the office administration had decided to get involved with the students at CHS.

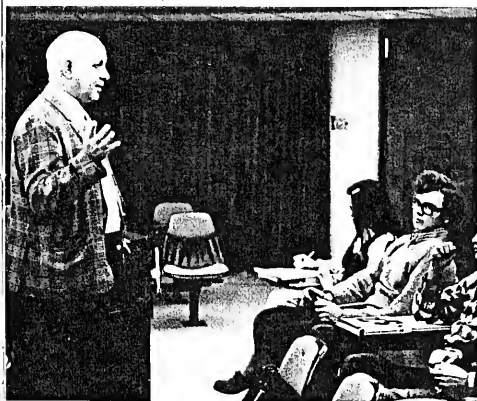

Our new Principal, Lee Cox, got involved and made quite a few changes to improve the school. For his fine work, he was named outstanding contributor for the year.

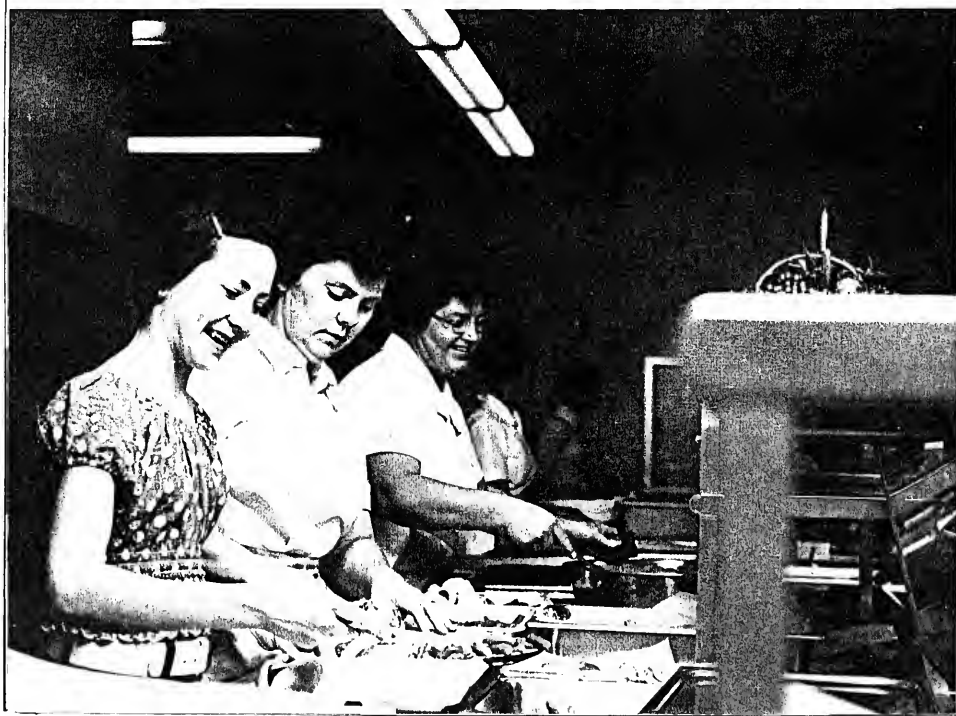

Assistant Principal, Dean Gorsuch, made his daily rounds making sure students were staying out of trouble. He also did a great deal in the promotion of sporting events.

Without the secretaries and guidance counselors, CHS would be lost forever. If there was ever a problem, you could count on them to be there.

Culinary and Custodial Departments

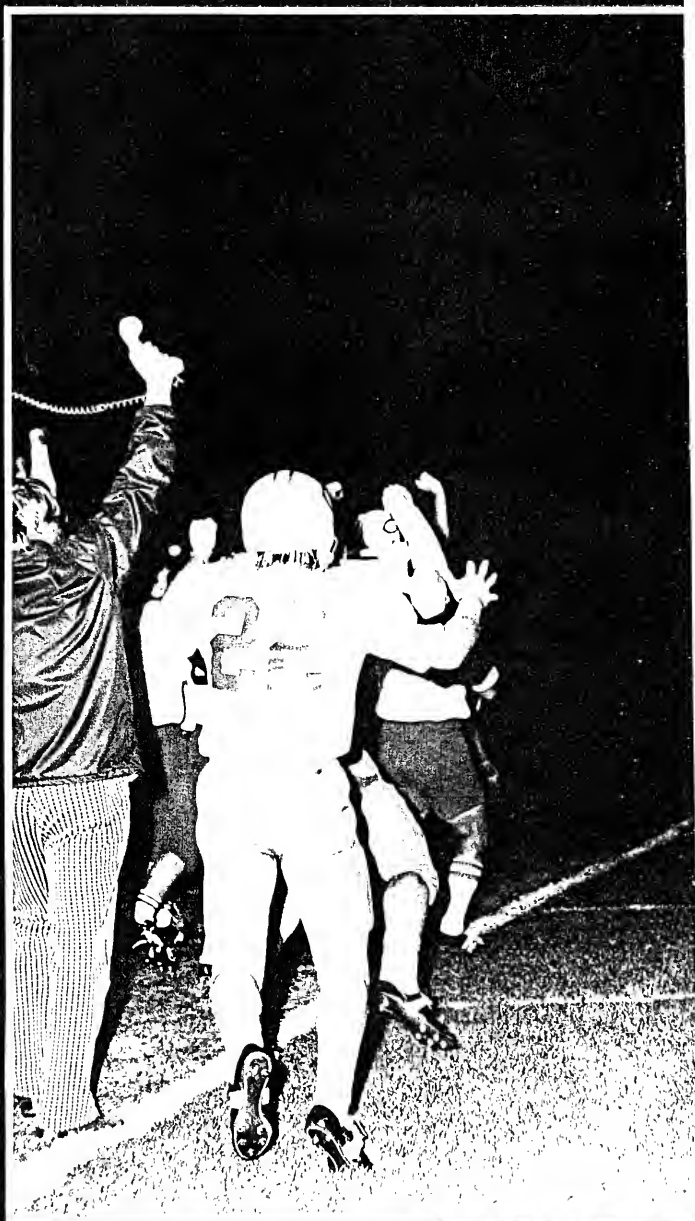

The efficiency of our custodial staff is what makes CHS such a clean and sanitary school. Their many tasks include sweeping halls and shoveling sidewalks.

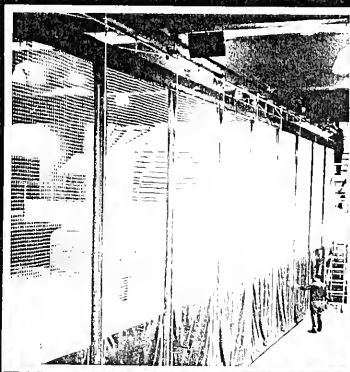

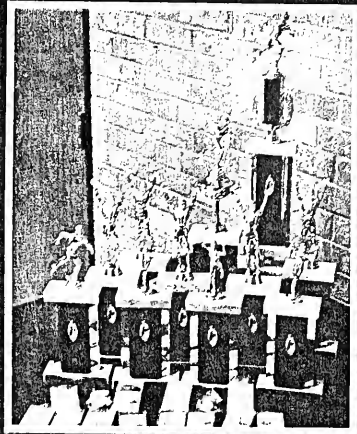

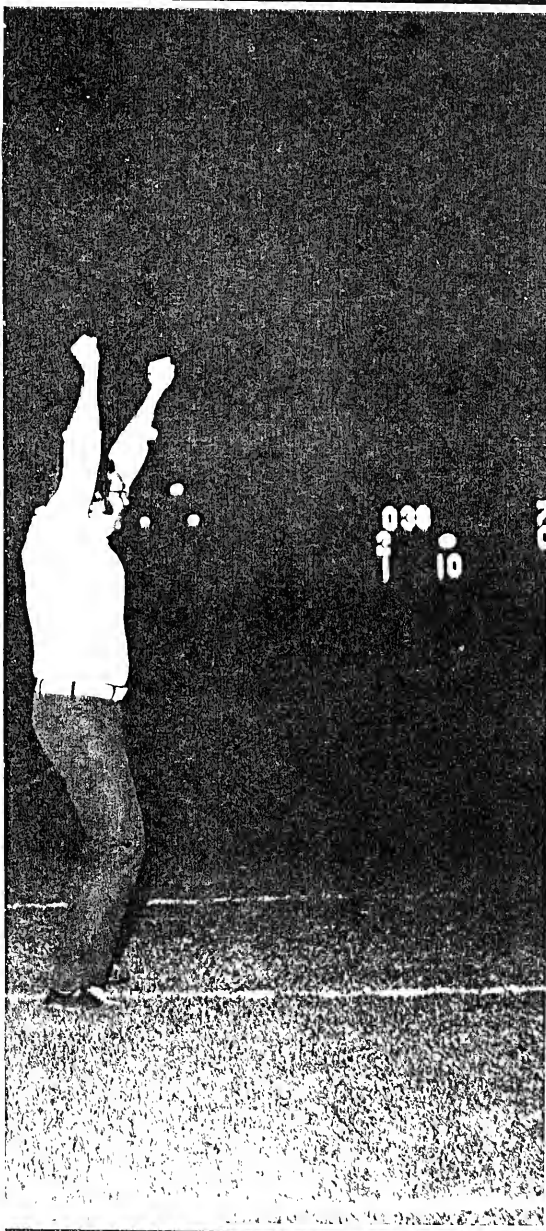

The planning of meals for students is a time consuming job for the cooking staff.

Upper Left: Steve Faurote and Sarah McBride make their choice in the Ala Carte line. Lower Left: Lynette Sloffier enjoys helping during her lunch period. Upper Right: Mr. Burns was guest of honor at his own party. Far Right: Dishwashing is only one task accomplished by Mrs. Pratt. Lower Right: Mr. and Mrs. Bailey take a moment from their daily routine for a picture.

Under the direction of Head Coach George McKinney, the 1973 football team had what coach McKinney feels was a "very successful season!" The Chargers finished with a 6 win and 4 loss record with the highlight of the season coming when the team knocked the Homestead Spartans out of the playoffs by defeating the Spartans with a score of 22 to 8.

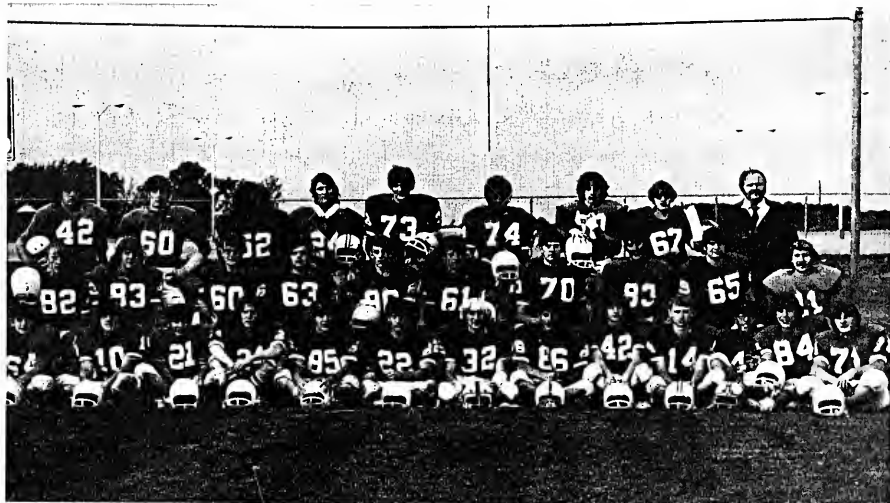

With only ten members of the 1973 team returning, coach McKinney sees 1974 as a rebuilding year for the football program. However, under the experienced guidance of coach McKinney and asst. coach Ed Fox, the team should suffer few setbacks.

Basketball—One “Frantastic” Season

CHS Cagers Excite Fans

With six Seniors, three Juniors, one Sophomore, and very little height, Carroll's basketball team accomplished something never before done at CHS. The cagers finished the season with a total of 14 wins and 8 losses, but the record doesn't tell the whole story. The Charger team brought to Carroll the ACAC Championship with an unblemished record of 9 wins and 0 defeats.

Entering the Sectionals, the Chargers defeated Bishop Dwenger and Snider, only to lose to the eventual State Champions, the Northrup Bruins, 57-47.

Many teams were taller, but none bigger in the eyes of the Carroll fans than the 1973-74 Carroll Charger Basketball Team.

Grapplers Take ACAC and Conference . . .

Under the firm hand of coach Ed Fox, the CHS grapplers have become one of the winningest athletic teams ever to come out of Carroll. In the process of finishing with a regular season record of nine wins two losses and one tie, "all" the grapplers did was to break every school record. Senior grappler Gary Merriman posted the fastest pin in the area of ten seconds. As if that wasn't enough, the Chargers won both the ACAC championship and conference crown and then wound up their season by placing second in the Sectionals and seventh in Regionals.

Chargers Capture North Division

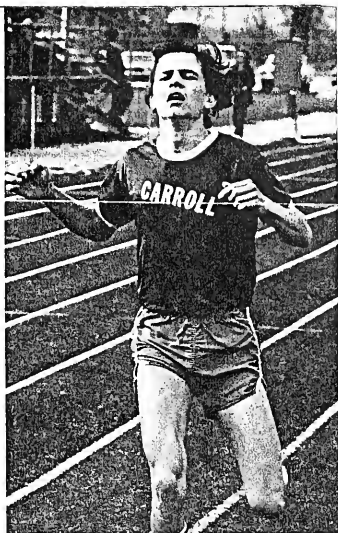

The 1974 boys track team, coached by Tom Keefer and assisted by Dave Bordner, did quite well this season. The boys won the North Division of the ACAC with 4-0 record. A new team scoring record was set against Eastside with 109 points. Setting new school records were: Nick Elias, pole vault; Dave Exner, high and low hurdles; Bob Wagner, 220 yard dash; and Rick Faylor, discus. George Cooper placed third in the Sectional and Regional and went on to State.

Carroll Girls Track Wins It All

ACAC—Sectional-Regional

Under the leadership of Mrs. McAlexander, a band of extremely talented, extremely feminine young women got together in the Spring and formed the CHS Girls' Track Team. This team captured the imagination of the area fans and also captured everything in sight.

The distaff side of track went on to become undefeated, won the ACAC tourney, took the Sectional, and roared through the Regional.

In the rare atmosphere of the highly competitive State Tourney, Char Wells placed fifth in the softball throw. It might be noted that the winning toss at State set an International record. The 880 medley relay team, Char Wells, Lisa Carpenter, Sarah McBride, and Carol Kruse also placed fifth at State.

CHS will always be proud of those young women who set standards of excellence for all future Carroll students to emulate.

Baseballers Have a "Super" Summer

The 1973 Chargers had the best overall season of any Carroll Team. They won the ACAC post season tournament, finished second in regular season conference play, and posted a 15-3 overall record. At the end of the season, the team elected Dennis McComb MVP and Terry Schlatter Captain.

Golfers Set Records

The CHS Golf Team finished its season with a 13-5 record and one tie. Its Conference record was 7-2, placing the golf squad second. In the Central Noble Invitational, Carroll placed second. During the ACAC meet, the squad finished third. Eighteen teams met at the Sectional with the Carroll team placing third. The team ended with an eighth place finish at the Regional.

Mike Hahn tied the individual 18 hole scoring record set by Jim McCrady by firing a 72. A four-man team record of 149 for 9 holes was set against Woodlan by S. Gerard, M. Hahn, J. Wilson, and B. Davis. A four-man team record of 311 for 18 holes was set at the Sectional by S. Gerard, M. Hahn, J. Wilson, and R. Sobczak. The team completed the season ranked as follows: 1. Scott Gerard. 2. Mike Hahn. 3. John Wilson. 4. Rob Sobczak. 5. Brett Davis. Ken Gentile also won a letter.

Cheers Cheers

We were the blue and the white. And as you could see . . . the spirit at Carroll High was the best ever.

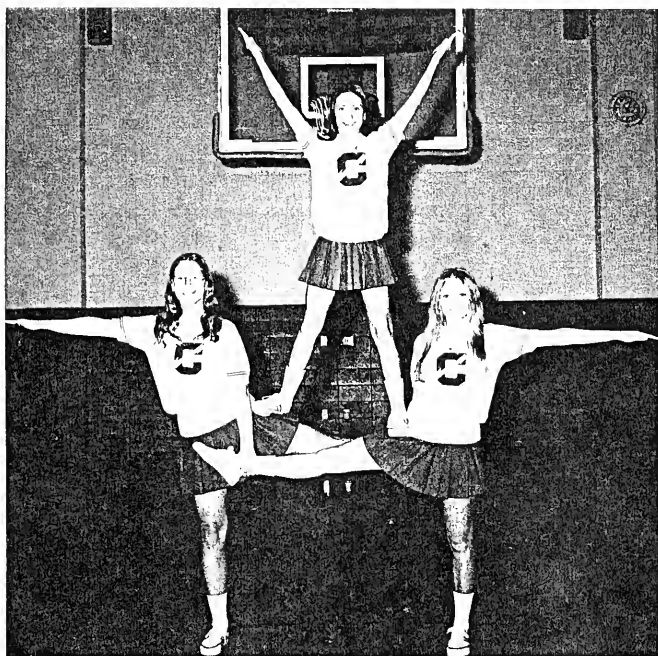

It all began with cheerleading tryouts in the spring of '73. Six varsity cheerleaders were elected for the first time. New eyecatching uniforms were ordered and a year of fun began. Practice was held twice a week during the summer months. After a fantastic week at cheerleading camp, the girls proudly returned with ten blue superior ribbons and the NCA Spirit Stick, the highest honor a squad may receive.

The teams were sparked by such additions as "men" in the cheers. The Reserves added new beats and gymnastic stunts while the spirited Freshman trio loyally supported their teams.

For years Chargers will remember the outstanding performances and contributions of these squads.

Cavalier Staff Does It

The yearbook staff put the "Cavalier" together this year with a flourish. Advertising sales exceeded previous years, a budget was formed, and new concepts in design were considered. The photo lab was constantly badgered for "more pictures, more pictures!"

As the year progressed, the feeling and style for the "Cavalier" emerged. The editors pushed their talents beyond limits to create a book that would exemplify Carroll 1973-1974.

It was a very good year. CHS students exhibited their abilities in all areas. Much of this was captured in photography and language. The "Cavalier" staff went everywhere to be certain the student body would have a yearbook that told the story of 1973-74. It succeeded.

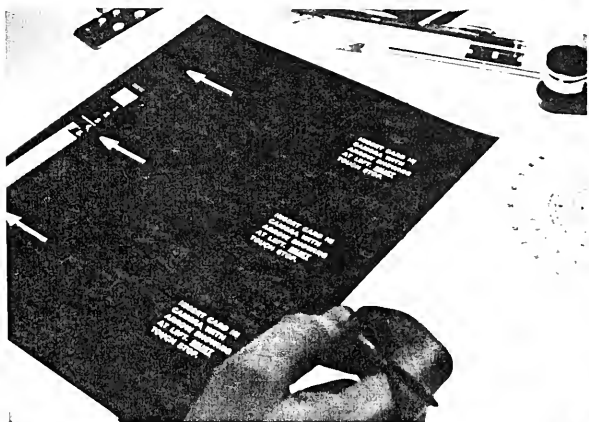

The story is your story—Today and for many Tomorrows—compliments of the "Cavalier" Editors: Pam Hadley, Debby Heck, Rebecca Shambaugh, Melinda Greig, Glenn Kite, Lisa Carpenter, Mary Jane Pulver, Mary Paige Greig, Mark Spade, Linda Zehr, Jodie Kimmel, and Jeff Baker.

Carroll Times "Excels"

The CARROLL TIMES staff set one pervasive goal this year—"quality not quantity." This goal became an attitude to excel, and excel it did.

Writing began to provoke thought. Achievement of Carroll students in all areas of endeavor received recognition. Opinions, whether popular or unpopular, were expressed. The newspaper became a voice for not only the student body but also for the entire Carroll Community.

The staff faced many challenges. Extremely limited in its technical resources, the staff managed to ingeniously devise methods of headlining, of design, and of photography. It managed to evoke a sympathetic ear from business men in the community to come to its printing aid. The challenges were endless but each was accepted and met.

Future staff members will benefit from this responsible attitude to excel and will carry the CARROLL TIMES to further heights of achievement.

Special sessions on Tuesdays promoted activity by the Council. Homecoming, Parent-Student Exchange Day, the Christmas Bureau, fan buses for away games, revising the Activity Period, and the successful Spring Fling were all made possible by the Student Council and the Administration.

“NFL”—1974 The Best Ever!

Since the team's origin five years ago, it has improved every year, and it's not difficult to see that the 1973-74 season was the most successful thus far. Of the twelve regular meets, the speech team, under the direction of Coach Ruby Byers, brought home six first places, three seconds, and one third. It took second at Sectionals, fourth at Regionals, sixth at State, and fifth at NFL Solos. At those meets the team members collected 124 ribbons, 28 of which were first places. At EVERY speech meet, Carroll came home with first place in poetry. Juanita Hayes gathered four firsts including the first place trophy at the State meet, and Sue Platt won eleven first place trophies along with third in State. John Wise was the only double winner of the year as he won first in boys' extemp and first in impromptu at the Heritage meet.

This year four members attained the fourth degree. Seniors Doug Hamilton, Sue Platt, and Cindy Wiseman, and Junior Fred Neuhauser added their names to the list of those who hold the degree of distinction.

On Awards Day, President Sue Platt was honored with the NFL of the Year trophy. The Senior members rewarded Coach Byers for her devotion to the team by presenting her with a plaque for being NFL Coach of the Year. The club also presented four scholarships in memory of their teammate Joene Wort. Recipients were Juanita Hayes, Debby Heck, Sue Platt, and John Wise.

This year the German Club, under the direction of President Ken Gentile, tried to further its knowledge of the German Culture. As a money making project, the club sponsored the Marx Brothers movie "Horsefeathers."

The Media Club members assisted the students and faculty this past year by checking out materials and helping to locate information. The club sold candles at Christmas time to raise money for the library. Two members held offices in the Indiana Student Media Association. Linda McLenry was elected Vice-President and Coleen Seely was Parliamentarian. John Wise and Sherrie Bingham shared honors as the outstanding student librarians for 1974.

The office girls aid the administration daily. These girls duplicate papers for use of the teachers. They collect and record attendance along with running numerous errands. Without their help the office would have difficulty functioning.

FFA . . .

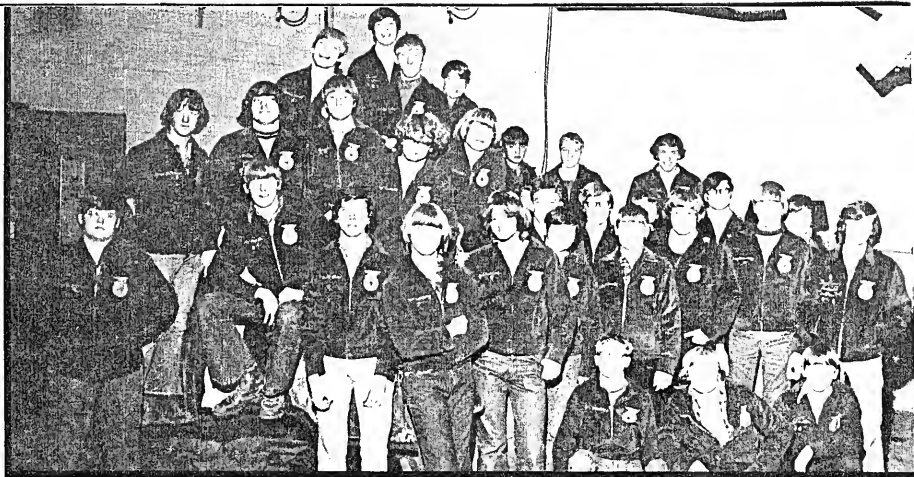

1974 has been a very successful year for the Carroll High School Chapter of FFA. The All American Dairy Contest was won by Al Kuehnert, Norm Fick, Ron Fick, and by Ralph Linnemeier, who showed the proper way to judge a dairy cow on television. Also on TV was Greg Kurtz and Kent Reese who competed in the FFA Quiz Bowl and Fred Neuhauser and Kent Greener in a horticulture demonstration. The FFA also contributed to the community by building a barn-shaped coat rack for the needy children at the Haven Community Center, pictured at bottom right.

CHS Band The "Greatest"

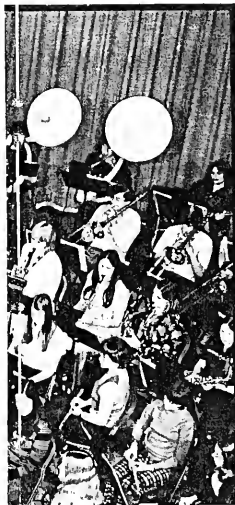

"It was a very good year." And it was. The CHS Band marched, paraded, and produced sounds that echoed throughout the Carroll environment.

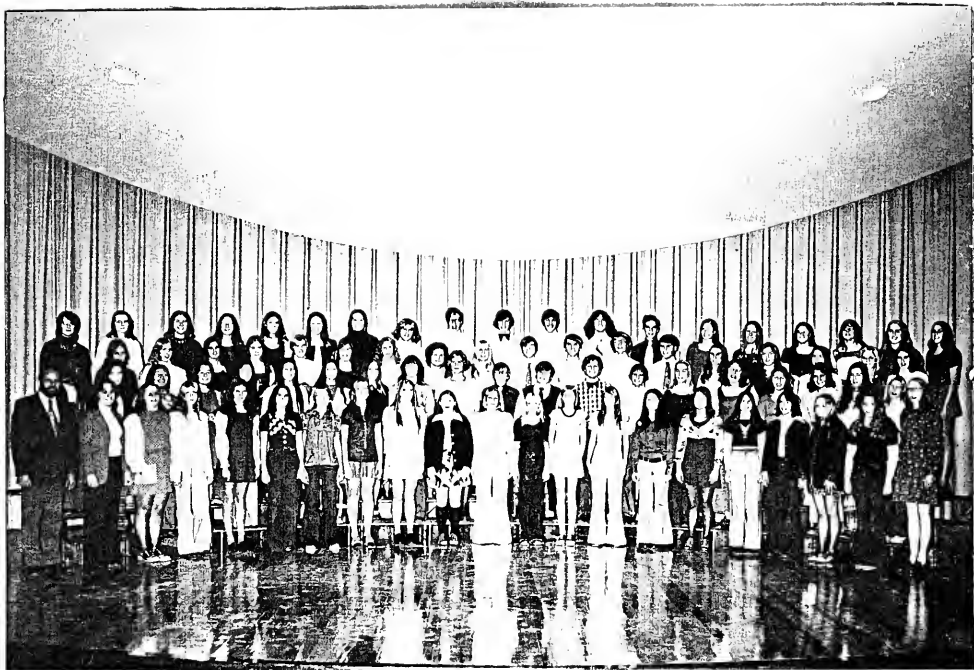

Besides the entertainment provided during the football and basketball games, the Band presented Winter and Spring Concerts. It also performed throughout the Fort Wayne area, spreading the reputation of Carroll excellence. The Spring Concert was combined with the Art Department to present a Festival of Fine Arts to an appreciative audience.

Who can forget the orchestration for the musical "Dahm Yankees?" And this year witnessed the new addition of the Carroll Stage Band. The Stage Band produced sounds of the big band era.

Audiences at all CHS functions expressed their appreciation of this dedication and effort of the CHS Band members to produce a unit of community pride, all a tribute to Mr. Luke Matthew and his desire for excellence.

Choir Sings in Harmony

The choir, under the direction of Luke Matthew, performed on many occasions throughout the year. Besides its outstanding performances at the winter and spring concerts, the choir will be remembered by the community for its impressive renditions during the 1974 Baccalaureate service.

Again Mr. Matthew is to be commended for bringing about this blend of melodious voices.

SPRING-FLING—1974

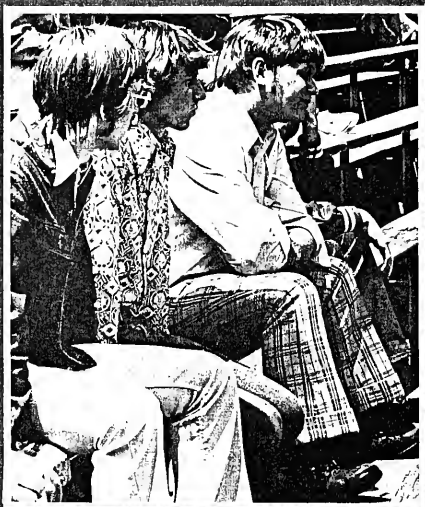

On May 10th, the Student Council held Carroll's first Spring Fling. Everyone went to the football field and the classes competed against each other. The seniors came out the winners after the wheelbarrow race, foot sack, and running backward relays along with the water balloon toss, kite flying, and necking contests were completed. The afternoon was a sunny, windy, and enjoyable one.

Tomorrow, a dim haze lost in memory
Unless captured, recorded, preserved in a Book!

Cavalier 1974

A person becomes a person
in the encounter with other people ...
And in no other way.

People

Need

"People"

We put our heads together and did it! There was a time when it all looked so mysterious. What is this thing called a yearbook? How do you put all these pages together? What do you write? How does it all fit? What about the pictures? On and on... the questions! But Mr. Robinson was always there, and soon all questions were answered. Then suddenly, the magic of creating a book became a reality.

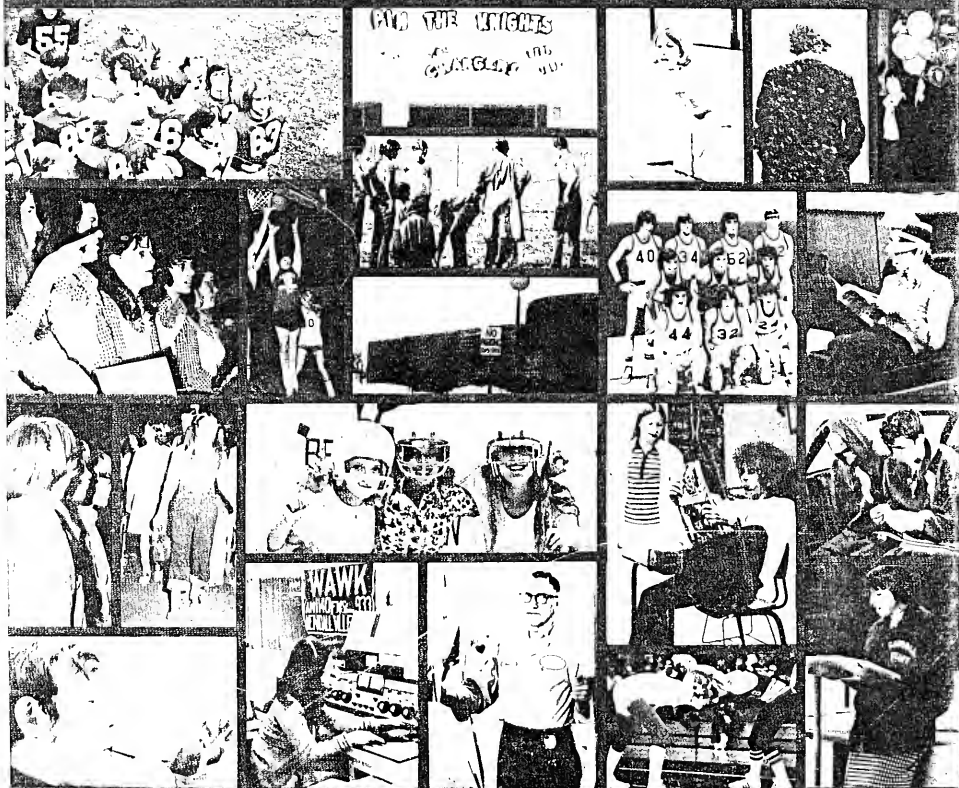

We were allowed to explore new concepts. We were allowed to present new ideas. We studied all the present and past methodology. But most of all... we were encouraged to discover our own talents. The result is a book—this book—"Cavalier 1974." And you know, somehow it's going to look much better ten, twenty years from now. We know you will agree.

THE EDITORS: Deborah Heck, Pam Hadley, Mary Paige Greig, Linda Zehr, Jeff Baker, Rebecca Shambaugh, Melinda Greig, Glenn Kite, Mary Jane Pulver, Jody Kimmel, Mark Sparks, and Lisa Carpenter.

"The more you come to know about people, the more you will discover about yourself—
and realize that you are as fascinating and mysterious
as any human being who ever lived."

Philip Scharper
